Combiflex™ StopOver 65 midnight blue

PLAY IT SAFE

People are reluctant to leave their new skis unattended in front of the chalet or hang their helmets on their bikes without securing them. So what can they do?

The Combiflex special lock from ABUS provides a remedy. It protects your things from casual and opportunistic theft, so you can enjoy your well-deserved break with peace of mind. As the steel cable is extendible, it can be threaded through the object to be secured and locked in no time at all. To open, simply enter the opening code that you choose yourself. The cable will then automatically retract itself. The Combiflex provides convenient keyless security in a handy format. This means that loose objects are also protected from nimble fingers.
