Socket protector JC2100A GRETA white

FUSE SOCKETS

Protect your child with socket covers

Sockets are usually at a height that is very easy for children to reach. These funny little things with the holes in them usually exert a great fascination on the little tots. That's why they like to stick their fingers in. It's good when you can simply put our GRETA socket cover over it and this danger is averted!

Technologies

- Simple installation – no drilling, gluing or screws required
- Childproof: can only be removed using a special key
- Discreet, unobtrusive design

Operation and use

- Protects children from electric shocks
- For use at home and when staying elsewhere
