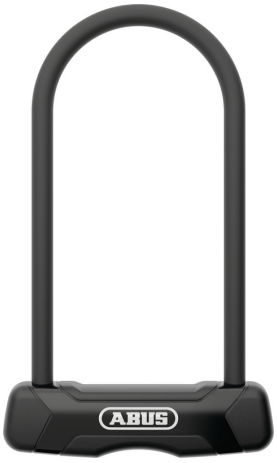
Facilo 320K/150HB230 + Bracket USH320K



BASIC PROTECTION MEETS ABUS QUALITY

Whether the bike is parked in front of the shop while shopping or at the garden fence when visiting friends: the Facilo 320K U-lock is the ideal protection for bikes with a low risk of theft or for bikes in the lower price segment.

As the successor to the tried-and-tested Facilo 32, the Facilo 320K combines modern security technology with an enhanced design. The 12 mm thick hardened steel shackle and the proven ABUS "double locking" mechanism provide additional security in everyday life: the shackle is locked twice in the lock body and therefore offers better protection against attempts to break it open. High-quality materials and a reliable quality lock cylinder ensure a secure and durable overall package. With the optional Cobra™ cable (140 cm long, 10 mm thick, item number 47700), you can also secure components such as balance bikes or accessories such as your bike helmet directly to the bike.

Technologies

- Robust steel shackle: the 12 mm thick hardened steel round shackle provides increased resistance to break-open attempts
- ABUS quality lock cylinder: reliable locking mechanism for convenient opening and closing and protection against tampering
- Double locking: both sides of the shackle are locked in the lock body – even if one side of the shackle is cut through, the lock cannot simply be pried open
- Paint-friendly coating: the 12 mm thick steel bracket is additionally coated with a 1.8 mm plastic coating – to protect the bike frame from scratches and paint damage when locking up the bike
- Two reversible keys included: key can be used regardless of the insertion direction – for convenient opening and closing

Facilo 320K/150HB230 + Bracket USH320K

- Notch-free key: key without sharp edges – gentle on clothing, pockets and hands
- Easy to transport: relatively lightweight U-lock for convenient everyday transport
- Pleasant feel: high-quality material combination ensures a high-quality look and a good grip with every use

Use and application

- Recommended for inexpensive bikes: reliable protection in situations where there is a lower risk of theft – ideal as basic protection for everyday use
- More space when locking up: the greater the shackle height, the easier it is to connect the bike to fixed objects such as bike racks, railings or leaning rails
- Ideal for suburbs and residential areas: practical security in outlying areas, in the countryside or in smaller towns
- Ideal for shopping and errands: protects the bike during short stops at the bakery, supermarket, pharmacy or café
- Ideal for leisure and weekends: for securing your bike during excursions, after-work rides or weekend tours – for example, during breaks at the playground, in the park or at the ice cream parlour
